

SUSTAINABILITY IN HEALTHCARE

2nd till 6th March, 2026

Copenhagen University College
Copenhagen, Denmark

Register here:

Overview

What does sustainability in healthcare really mean—and how can it meet diverse cultural needs? Explore its definition, understand the challenges, and discover practical strategies for sustainable practice. Connect with fellow students from Nordic and Baltic countries through cultural and social activities—learning has never been this engaging!

Lectures, Workshops,
Cultural Activities

Travel and Accommodation
cost covered by NordPlus

Language of instruction:
English

3 ECTS Credits

Contact Information

South-Eastern Finland

University of Applied Sciences Ltd (FI):

reetta.korhonen@xamk.fi

Turku UAS (FI):

joonas.korhonen@turkuamk.fi

Tallinn Health University of Applied Sciences:

kurt.cassar@ttk.ee

University of Iceland (IS): hildusig@hi.is

Copenhagen University College (DK-KP):

KETH@kp.dk

Riga Medical College of the University of Latvia (LV):

sanita.puncule@rmkoledza.lv

Karolinska Institutet (SE):

marianna.moberg@ki.se

Kaunas College (LT):

vilma.rasteniene@go.kauko.lt